WHO WE ARE

Building innovative and sustainable solutions

We are a technology company providing engineering-as-a-service solutions at scale to organizations across multiple industries. Our expert teams of engineers, data scientists, designers, and product managers aggregate decades of industry experience. Innovation and sustainability are at the core of the work we do at Enyata, and that is why our clients trust us.

We want to build a world where great ideas, products, and companies come to fruition quickly whilst achieving the required impact. Our work is to facilitate the process.

Oladayo, CTO of Enyata

OUR APPROACH

Design thinking meets agile methodology

Our process is borne out of the need to build tailored solutions for every scenario.

We're decidedly agile in our operations so that we can design solutions that work.

Product Planning

Meeting with all stakeholders to discuss scope and metrics

Product Development

Run a development sprint to build the solution.

Product Design

Wireframing and prototyping solutions based on the agreed plan

Performance and quality testing to guarantee reliability

Quality Assurance

OUR VALUES

A melting pot for the best ideas

Integrity

We hold ourselves to a strong ethical and moral code.

Trust

We are dependable, loyal people working together to achieve the same goals.

Excellence

We consistently strive to do high-quality work and leave no room for errors.

OUR PEOPLE

Collaborating and optimizing for growth

The teams at Enyata are powering the growth of Africa's technology ecosystem.
